THE CODE OF CIVIL PROCEDURE (UTTAR PRADESH AMENDMENT) ACT, 2003

(U.P. ACT No. 14 of 2003)

(As passed by the Uttar Pradesh Legislature)

AN

ACT

further to amend the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908 in its application to Uttar Pradesh.

IT IS HEREBY enacted in the Fifty-fourth Year of the Republic of India as follows:-

Short title, extent and commencement

- 1.(1) This Act may be called the Code of Civil Procedure, (Uttar Pradesh Amendment) Act, 2003.
 - (2) It extends to the whole of Uttar Pradesh.
 - (3) It shall be deemed to have come into force on March 22, 2003.

Substitution of section 115 of Act no. 5 of 1908

- 2. For section 115 of the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908, hereinafter referred to as the principal Act, the following section shall be substituted and be deemed to have been substituted with effect from July 1, 2002, namely:-
 - "115.(1) A superior court may revise an order passed in a case decided in an Revision original suit or other proceeding by a subordinate court where no appeal lies against the order and where the subordinate court has—
 - (a) exercised a jurisdiction not vested in it by law; or
 - (b) failed to exercise a jurisdiction so vested; or
 - (c) acted in exercise of its jurisdiction illegally or with material irregularity.

- (2) A revision application under sub-section (1), when filed in the High Court, shall contain a certificate on the first page of such application, below the title of the case, to the effect that no revision in the case lies to the district court but lies only to the High Court either because of valuation or because the order sought to be revised was passed by the district court.
- (3) The superior court shall not, under this section, vary or reverse any order made except where,—
 - (i) the order, if it had been made in favour of the party applying for revision, would have finally disposed of the suit or other proceeding; or
 - (ii) the order, if allowed to stand, would occasion a failure of justice or cause irreparable injury to the party against whom it is made.
- (4) A revision shall not operate as a stay of suit or other proceeding before the court except where such suit or other proceeding is stayed by the superior court.

Explanation -I. In this section,-

- (i) the expression 'superior court' means-
- (a) the district court, where the valuation of a case decided by a court subordinate to it does not exceed five lakh rupees;
- (b) the High Court, where the order sought to be revised was passed in a case decided by the district court or where the value of the original suit or other proceedings in a case decided by a court subordinate to the district court exceed five lakh rupees;
- (ii) the expression 'order' includes an order deciding an issue in any original suit or other proceedings.

Explanation -II. The provisions of this section shall also be applicable to orders passed, before or after the commencement of this section, in original suits or other proceedings instituted before such commencement."

- 3.(1) Notwithstanding anything contained in this Act, no judgement or order passed by the High Court in a revision filed on or after July 1, 2002 shall be liable to be questioned or reviewed on the ground that the revision ought to have been filed in the district court.
- (2) Any revision filed in the district court in a case where the value of the original suit or proceeding does not exceed five lakh rupees and is decided by it on the assumption that the district court would have jurisdiction notwithstanding the amendment of section 115 of the principal Act, by the Code of Civil Procedure (Amendment) Act, 1999 shall be deemed to have been correctly filed in that court and its decision thereon shall not be liable to be questioned on this ground, and such revision, if any pending on the date of commencement of this Act, shall be decided by that court.
- (3) If on or after July 1, 2002 an application for revision under section 115 of the principal Act has been filed before the High Court in a case decided by a court subordinate to the district court, where the value of the original suit or proceeding does not exceed five lakh rupees and such application is pending on the date of commencement of this Act, then such application, unless arguments thereon have already been concluded and only judgement remains to be pronounced by the High Court, shall stand transferred to the district court concerned, and the same shall be disposed of in accordance with the said section 115 as substituted by this Act.

U.P. Ordinance no. 26 of 2003.

U.P. ordinance no. 5 of 2003

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS

The Code of Civil Procedure (Uttar Pradesh Amendment) Act, 1978 (U.P. Act no. 31 of 1978) was enacted to amend inter-alia section 115 of the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908 in its application to Uttar Pradesh to provide for empowering the District Judges to revise the orders of courts subordinate to them, arising out of the original suits of the valuation up to Rupees Twenty thousand. The section 115 of the said Code was further amended in its application to Uttar Pradesh by the Uttar Pradesh Civil Laws (Amendment) Act, 1991 (U.P. Act no. 17 of 1991) to raise the said valuation up to Rupees One lac. Since the said amendments have been repealed by section 32 of the Code of Civil Procedure (Amendment) Act, 1999 (Act no. 46 of 1999), the District Judges in the state now have no power to revise the order of the courts subordinate to them arising out of original suits with effect from the date of commencement of the said Act of 1999 i.e. 01-07-2002. Same view has been expressed by the Hon'ble High Court of Judicature Allahabad in the matter of United Service Club and others Vs. Anita Barlo and others (Civil Revision Number 92 of 2002) decided on 16-9-2002. Consequently a litigant has to approach the Hon'ble High Court for filing a revision against the order of the subordinate courts arising out of suits of any valuation, whereas, he can file an appeal before the District Judge against the order of the subordinate courts passed in original suits of valuation up to Rupees Five lacs under the provisions of Bengal, Agra and Assam Civil Courts Act, 1887. With a view to removing the difficulties, it has been decided to amend section 115 of the said Code in its application to Uttar Pradesh to provide for empowering the District Judges to revise the orders of the courts subordinate to them arising out of original suits of the valuation up to Rupees Five lacs.

The Code of Civil Procedure (Uttar Pradesh Amendment) Bill, 2003 is introduced accordingly.
